198. Return showing:—1. Whether the Government have taken cognizance of the following article published in the Montreal "Gazette" on November 1, 1915:—"Canadian Help Comes from Sale of Gift Flour. Foodstuffs not Needed by the English Poor were Bought for Belgian Relief.—Funds to Aid East Coast.—Hon. Walter Long Suggested to Canadian Government that $750,000 be Allotted, and Latter Agreed.—(Special cable from the "Gazette's" resident staff correspondent.)

"London, October 31,—'Canada's aid to the east coast towns of England, which are suffering through the war, is the subject of some misconception,' said Sir George Perley to-day. In a statement in the Commons, Hon. Walter Long said that the necessary funds for a Government scheme of help for hotel and lodging house keepers had been generously provided by the Canadian Government. This gave rise to the idea that the Dominion was taking a new step, but the fact is that no money is coming from Canada. Of the flour sent by Canada a year ago to relieve distress in England, very little was distributed, as poverty was in no way abnormal. Some 400,000 bags of this flour were transferred to the American committee for Belgian relief, which purchased them. The money paid for this flour being in the hands of the Local Government Board, Hon. Walter Long, as President of the Board, suggested to Sir George Perley that this might be utilized for the relief of the east coast towns where the season had been ruined owing to the lack of railway facilities and the disinclination of the public to visit the east coast because of the possibility of German naval or aerial raids. The Dominion Government acquiesced in this proposal, and the sum of $750,000, part of the proceeds of the sale of the flour, has now been allotted for this purpose. Canada's generosity will therefore go to alleviate the distress of a large number of better-class people, who are direct sufferers from the war, instead of the destitute poor, for whom it was intended, but who, it develops, were not in need of it." 2. Whether the said article is accurate. If not, in what respect it is inaccurate. Presented March 20, 1916.—Mr. Papineau.

198*a*. Return showing:—1. Whether the Government is aware that the following extract from an article was published on the 12th January, 1915, in the Montreal "Gazette":—

"Distress Caused in England by War is Negligible.—Comparatively Small Portion of Colonial Gifts Used for National Relief.—Much Went to Belgians.—War Office also took Large Share.—Salvation Army has Scheme Requiring Canadian Co-operation.—(Special cable from the "Gazette's" resident staff correspondent.)

"London, January 11.—Very satisfactory evidence of the comparative absence in England of any distress caused by the war is furnished by a report on the special work of the Local Government Board arising out of the war, which was issued to-day as a White Paper. The action by Noel Kershaw, dealing with the disposition of the gifts from the Colonies, shows that only a small part of the goods allocated has been required for relieving the distress of civilians.

"The following is the disposition of the 940,530 bags of flour received from Canada: To the local committees for the relief of distress, 90,474; to the Belgian Refugees Committees, 1,691; transferred to the War Office, 99,760; further offer to the War Office, 300,000; to the Belgian Relief Commission, 443,886; sold, owing to damage, 4,719." 2. Who had charge of accepting delivery and the shipping of this flour. 3. Whether the Government have any information of the shortage of 59,430 bags of flour, alleged in said article. If not, what became of the flour that was short. Presented March 20, 1916.—Mr. Papineau. . . . . Not printed.

CHAPTER 16.

An Act respecting the Civil Service of Canada.

SHORT TITLE.

1. This Act may be cited as the Civil Service Act. R.S., c. 17, s. 1. Short title.

INTERPRETATION.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires.— Definitions.

(a) 'head of the department' means the minister of the Crown for the time being presiding over the department;

(b) 'deputy,' 'deputy head,' or 'deputy head of the department,' means the deputy of the minister of the Crown presiding over the department, and the Clerk of the Privy Council; and includes also the Auditor General, in all cases in which such meaning is not inconsistent with his powers and duties under the Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act;

(c) 'Board' means the examiners appointed for the purposes of this Act. R.S., c. 17, s. 2; 3 E. VII., c. 9, s. 1.

CONSTITUTION.

3. The Civil Service for the purposes of this Act includes and consists of all classes of officers, clerks and employees, elsewhere than in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory, in or under the several departments of the Executive Government of Canada and in the office of the Auditor General, included in schedules A and B to this Act, appointed by the Governor in Council or other competent authority before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, or thereafter appointed or employed in the manner provided by the Civil Service Act for the time being in force; and also includes,— Of whom the Civil Service shall consist.

(a) such officers, clerks or employees in the lower grades as are determined by order in council; and,

(b) such officers, clerks and employees in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory, holding positions which if held in other parts of Canada would bring them under the provisions of this Act, as the Governor in Council brings under the provisions hereof.

Exception.

2. The Civil Service shall not, however, include nor shall this Act apply to any of the officers or employees to whom by the provisions of the Post Office Act that Act instead of the Civil Service Act is intended to apply. R.S., c. 17, s. 3; sch. B.; 2 E. VII., c. 28, s. 1.

Outside division.

(b) The second or outside departmental division which shall comprise officers, clerks, and employees of those classes mentioned in schedule B, and the other officers, clerks and employees included in the Civil Service who are employed otherwise than on the departmental staffs at Ottawa. R.S., c. 17, s. 4.

Regulations.

5. The Governor in Council may, from time to time, make general rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, respecting the appointments and promotions of the officers, clerks and employees in the Civil Service and all other matters pertaining thereto. R.S., c. 17, s. 5.

If the actual number exceeds that allowed.

2. If the number of officers, clerks, and employees then attached to any department in either division thereof is greater than the number allowed to the department, as herein provided, the Governor in Council shall name the persons to fill the several offices; and the remainder shall be supernumerary clerks, ineligible for increase of salary, of that class respectively in which they rank, and shall so remain until promoted in the manner herein provided or until severed from the service. R.S., c. 18, s. 2; 61 V., c. 17, s. 3; 2 E. VII., c. 22, s. 17. Exception.

APPLICATION.

3. Part I. of this Act shall apply only to such officers, clerks and employees in the Civil Service as were appointed previous to the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and who do not come within the application of Part II. Part I.

of this Act: Provided that Part I. of this Act shall not apply to any person appointed on or after the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, whose age at the time of such appointment exceeded forty-five years. R.S., c. 18, s. 2; 56 V., c. 12, s. 2; 61 V., c. 17, ss. 2 and 10.

Part II.

4. Part II. of this Act shall apply only to the officers, clerks and employees in the Civil Service appointed on or after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and to those persons, in the Civil Service on the last mentioned date, who before the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, with the consent of the Governor in Council, elected to accept the provisions of the Civil Service Retirement Act, 1898, in lieu of the provisions of the Civil Service Superannuation Act. 61 V., c. 17, ss. 2 and 10.

Regulations.

5. In any case of doubt the Governor in Council may, by general or special regulations, determine to what persons the provisions of this Act do or do not apply, and the conditions on which, and the manner in which, they shall apply in any case or class of cases. R.S. c. 18, s. 14.

PART I.

ELIGIBILITY.

Who eligible.

6. The Governor in Council may grant a superannuation allowance not exceeding the allowance hereinafter authorized to any person who has served in an established capacity in the Civil Service for ten years or upwards, and who has attained the age of sixty years or become incapacitated by bodily infirmity from properly performing his duties. R.S., c. 18, s. 3.

Service before Confederation to be counted.

7. Service in an established capacity in any of the departments of the executive government or offices of the legislature of any of the provinces, now included in the Dominion of Canada, before such province became a portion thereof, by any person who thereafter entered the Civil Service, shall be reckoned in computing his period of service for the purposes of this Act. R.S., c. 18, s. 13.

Breaks in service not to be counted.

8. If the service has not been continuous, the period or periods during which such service has been interrupted shall not be counted. R.S., c. 18, s. 3.

Preliminary inquiry by Treasury Board.

9. The superannuation of every civil servant shall be preceded by an inquiry by the Treasury Board,—

(a) whether the person it is proposed to superannuate is eligible within the meaning of this Act; and,

(b) whether the superannuation of such person will result in benefit to the service, and is therefore in the public interest; or,

(c) whether superannuation has become necessary in consequence of the mental or physical infirmity of such person. R.S., c. 18, s. 5.

Report of Board.

10. No civil servant shall be superannuated unless the Treasury Board reports that he is eligible within the meaning of this Act and that such superannuation will be in the public interest. R.S., c. 18, s. 5.

ALLOWANCES AND GRATUITIES.

Rates of allowances.

11. The superannuation allowance hereinbefore mentioned shall be calculated upon the average yearly salary, during the last three years of service, of the person to whom such allowance is to be made, and shall not exceed, if such person has served for ten years, but less than eleven years, an annual allowance of ten-fiftieths of such average salary, and, if he has served for eleven years but less than twelve years, an annual allowance of eleven-fiftieths thereof, and in like manner a further addition of one-fiftieth of such average salary for each additional year of service up to thirty-five years, when an annual allowance of thirty-five-fiftieths may be granted, but no addition shall be made for any service beyond thirty-five years.

Fraction of one-half or more equal to one year.

2. In computing the number of years of service for the purposes of this section, if the actual period of service includes a fraction of a year, the fraction, if equal to or greater than one-half, shall be counted as a full year's service. R.S., c. 18, s. 3; 3 E. VII., c. 10, s. 1.

Ten years may be added.

12. The Governor in Council may, in the case of any person who entered the Civil Service after the age of thirty years, as being possessed of some peculiar professional or other qualifications or attainments required for the office to which he was appointed, and not ordinarily to be acquired in the public service, add to the actual number of years of service of such person, such further number of years not exceeding ten, as is considered equitable, for reasons stated in the order in council made in the case, and such additional number of years shall be taken as part of the term of service on which the superannuation allowance of such person shall be computed. R.S., c. 18, s. 4.

Diminished allowance if service unsatisfactory.

13. If the head of a department reports with respect to any person employed in his department, and about to be superannuated, from any cause other than that of ill-health or age, that the service of such person has not been satisfactory, the Governor in Council may, as to him seems fit, grant such person a superannuation allowance less than that to which he would have otherwise been entitled. R.S., c. 18, s. 9.

Gratuity when yearly allowance not earned.

14. If any person to whom this Act applies is constrained, from any infirmity of mind or body, to quit the Civil Service before the period at which a superannuation allowance might be granted him, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding one month's pay for each year of his service; and if any such person is so constrained to quit the service before such period, by reason of severe bodily injury, received without his own fault, in the discharge of his public duty, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding three months' pay for every two years' service, or a superannuation allowance not exceeding one-fifth of his average salary during the then last three years. R.S., c. 18, s. 10.

Compensation if retirement compulsory.

Limited.

15. If any person to whom this Act applies is removed from office in consequence of the abolition of his office for the purpose of improving the organization of the department to which he belongs, or is removed or retired from office to promote efficiency or economy in the Civil Service, the Governor in Council may grant him such gratuity or superannuation allowance as will fairly compensate him for his loss of office, not exceeding such as he would have been entitled to if he had retired in consequence of permanent infirmity of body or mind, after adding ten years to his actual term of service. R.S., c. 18, s. 11.

Payment of allowances.

16. The allowances and gratuities granted under this Act shall, as to all persons appointed to the Civil Service previous to the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, be payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada, and as to all persons appointed to the Civil Service on or after the last mentioned date, the same shall be payable out of the Civil Service Superannuation Fund, number two, hereinafter defined. R.S., c. 18, s. 15; 56 V., c. 12, s. 4.

DEDUCTIONS.

1½ per cent.

17. A deduction towards making good the superannuation allowances hereinbefore mentioned shall be made from the salary of every person in the Civil Service appointed previous to the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, at the rate of two per centum per annum on such salary, if it is six hundred dollars or upwards, and of one and one-quarter per centum per annum thereon if it is less than six hundred dollars, and the sum so deducted shall form part of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada. R.S., c. 18, s. 6.

3½ per cent.
3 per cent.

18. A deduction shall be made from the salary of every person appointed to the Civil Service on or after the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum on such salary, if it is six hundred dollars or upwards, and of three per centum per annum thereon if it is less than six hundred dollars, and such deduction shall be carried to the credit of a fund called the Civil Service Superannuation Fund, number two, to which shall be added by the Government annually such a sum as, upon an estimate or valuation thereof based upon the H. M. Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain and a rate of interest of six per centum per annum, may be sufficient to make the amount thereof equal to the value of the prospective annuities payable therefrom. 56 V., c. 12, s. 3.

19. The deductions mentioned in the last two preceding sections shall be made only during the first thirty-five years of service. R.S., c. 18, s. 6. Deductions during 35 years of service only.

COMPULSORY RETIREMENT.

20. Retirement shall be compulsory on every person to whom the superannuation allowance hereinbefore mentioned is offered, and such offer shall not be considered as implying any censure upon the person to whom it is made; nor shall any person be considered as having any absolute right to such allowance, but it shall be granted only in consideration of good and faithful service during the time upon which it is calculated. R.S., c. 18, s. 8. When. No absolute right to allowance.

21. Nothing herein contained shall be understood as impairing or affecting the right of the Governor in Council to dismiss or remove any person from the Civil Service. R.S., c. 18, s. 8. Right of dismissal unimpaired.

DISMISSAL.

22. The Governor in Council may, on the recommendation of the Treasury Board, pay to any person heretofore or hereafter dismissed from the public service of Canada, who at the time of such dismissal was contributing to any civil service superannuation fund under the provisions of this Act, or who has contributed to any such fund or funds during thirty-five years of service, the whole, or such portion as the Governor in Council deems expedient of the amount so contributed by such person to such fund. Deductions may be repaid.

2. The Governor in Council may also, on the recommendation of the Treasury Board, in addition, pay to such person interest to the date of such dismissal on the contributions so repaid, or any portion thereof, at such rate of interest not exceeding five per centum per annum, and calculated in such manner, as the Governor in Council deems advisable. 60-61 V., c. 15, SS. 1 and 2. With interest.

In discretion of Governor in Council.

23. Nothing in the last preceding section contained shall be construed to confer upon any person any right to demand or enforce the repayment of any amount contributed by him to any such fund, or any interest thereon, and all payments made under the last preceding section shall be wholly in the discretion of the Governor in Council. 60-61 V., c. 15, s. 3.

FORFEITURE OF ALLOWANCE.

In what cases.

24. Every person who receives a superannuation allowance, and is under the age of sixty years, and is not disabled by bodily or mental infirmity, may be called upon to fill, in any part of Canada, any public office or situation for which his previous services render him eligible, and which is not lower in rank or emolument than that from which he retired; and, if he refuses or neglects so to do, he shall forfeit his said allowance. R.S., c. 18, s. 12.

Addition.

2. The amount reserved in the case of each person together with any sum transferred to his credit as in the preceding subsection mentioned, shall be entered in a separate account, and interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, shall on the first days of January and July in each year, be computed on all sums to the credit of the Retirement Fund, whether principal or interest, and such interest shall be credited to the said sums and form part thereof. 61 V., c. 17, ss. 4 and 6. Qualification of candidates. 14. No person shall be admitted to such an examination unless he is a natural-born or naturalized British subject, and

Computation of number of vacancies.

15. Before holding any such examination the Commission shall require each head of a department to furnish it with the number of additional permanent officers or clerks likely to be required in his department within the next six months.

2. On this basis, and having regard also to the requirement of the several departments for temporary services, a computation shall be made by the Commission of the number of competitors to be selected at the next ensuing examination.

3. If there remain from a previous examination successful competitors who have not received appointments, their number shall be deducted in making the computation, and their names, in the order of merit, shall be placed at the top of the list to be prepared in accordance with section 17 of this Act.

Notice of examinations

16. Thereupon due notice of the examination shall be given by the Commission, stating the character and number of the positions to be competed for.

18. From the said list the Commission, on the application of the deputy head, with the approval of the head, of any department, shall supply the required clerks, whether for permanent or temporary duty.

2. The selections shall be, so far as practicable, in the order of the names on the list, but the Commission may select any person who in his examination shows special qualifications for any particular subject.

3. The Commission shall forthwith notify the Treasury Board and the Auditor General of the name and position in the service of each clerk supplied to any department and also of the rejection of any such clerk during his probationary term.

4. Assignment for temporary duty shall not prejudice the right to assignment for permanent duty.

5. No clerk supplied for temporary duty shall be so employed for more than six months in any year.

Rejection during probation

19. The head of the department, on the report in writing of the deputy head, may, at any time after two months from the date of assignment, and before the expiration of six months, reject any person assigned to his department.

2. The cause of the rejection shall be reported by the deputy head to the Commission, who shall thereupon select another person to take the place of the one rejected, and decide whether the latter shall be struck off the list or allowed a trial in another department.

Probationary service.

20. After a person so selected has served a probationary term of six months, he shall be deemed to be permanently accepted for the service.

Professional and specially qualified officers.

21. If the deputy head reports that the knowledge and ability requisite for the position are wholly or in part professional, technical or otherwise peculiar, the Governor in Council, upon the recommendation of the head of the department based on the report in writing of the deputy head, may appoint a person to the position without competitive examination and without reference to the age limit, provided the said person obtains from the Commission a certificate, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability and is duly qualified as to health, character and habits.

Messengers, packers, etc.

22. Appointments to the positions of messenger, porter, sorter and packer, and to such other positions in the lower grades as are determined by the Governor in Council, may be made by the Governor in Council upon the recommendation of the head of the department based on the report in writing of the deputy head, and accompanied by a certificate of qualification from the Commission, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, that the person applying for the appointment possesses the requisite knowledge and ability and is duly qualified as to age, health, character and habits.

Temporary clerks.

23. When, from a temporary pressure of work, extra assistance in excess of those whose names are on the list of successful competitors is required in the Inside Service of any department, the Governor in Council may, upon the recommendation of the head, based on the report in writing of the deputy head of the department that such extra assistance is required, authorize the employment of such number of temporary clerks as are required to carry on the work of the department.

2. Every such clerk shall, however, before appointment obtain a certificate of qualification from the Commission, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability and is duly qualified as to age, health, character and habits.

3. No such temporary clerk shall be employed for more than four months in any year.

PROMOTIONS.

Promotion by merit.

24. Promotion, other than from the third to the second division, shall be made for merit by the Governor in Council upon the recommendation of the head of the department, based on the report in writing of the deputy head and accompanied by a certificate of qualification by the Commission to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission.

Promotion from Second Division to First.

25. Except as herein otherwise provided, vacancies in the first division shall be filled by promotions from the second division.

Promotion to Second Division.

26. Clerks in the third division shall be permitted to enter for the open competitive examination for the second division, after such term of service and under such other conditions as are determined by regulations made by the Governor in Council, on the recommendation of the Commission.

2. Any person placed in the third division upon the coming into force of this Act, may, by the Governor in Council, upon the recommendation of the head of the department, based on the report in writing of the deputy head, and accompanied by a certificate of qualification by the Commission, to be given with or without examination, as is determined by the regulations of the Commission, be promoted from the third division to the second division without an open competitive examination.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS

The Commissioners of the Civil Service herewith submit the Seventh Annual Report of the operation of the Commission, covering the twelve months from September 1, 1914, to August 31, 1915.

As anticipated in the last Report of the Commissioners, the outbreak of the European War has hitherto prevented any progress with the Bills for the improvement of Civil Service conditions, which were introduced to Parliament at the close of the session of 1914.

The concrete results of the operations of the year as regards examinations, appointments, promotions, etc., are presented as usual in tabular form. From these lists it will be found that in November, 1914, examinations were held at thirty-two centres throughout Canada, at which one thousand three hundred and thirty-six (1,336) candidates presented themselves; while in May, 1915, examinations were held at thirty-five centres, at which one thousand eight hundred and twenty-one (1,821) candidates presented themselves. Of the total number of three thousand one hundred and fifty-seven (3,157) candidates, one thousand, five hundred and sixty-five (1,565) went up for the Preliminary Examinations for the Outside Service, and of these one thousand and forty-seven (1,047) were successful. At the Qualifying Examinations for the Outside Service there were five hundred and twenty-seven (527) candidates, of whom two hundred and twenty-five (225) were successful. At the examinations for the Inside Service there were seven hundred and thirty (730) candidates competing for one hundred and fifty (150) positions. Of these candidates two hundred and eighty-five (285) were men, and four hundred and forty-five (445) were women, and of the successful candidates seventy-nine were men and fifty-eight were women. In this connection, however, it is to be observed that the number of vacancies available for men being larger than the number for women, the competition among the women, especially for the general clerkships, was much sharper than among the men, and the quality of the successful candidates was increasingly higher, from the point of view of an educational standard at least.

Owing to a falling-off in the work in certain departments during the six months preceding the outbreak of the war, and the continued stagnation during the first few months after the beginning of the war, it was found that some of the departments did not require the full number of second division clerks which they had reported in the customary estimates to the Commission. The result was that when the estimates were prepared for the semi-annual examinations for November, 1914, it was found that there were still on the list of the previous half-year sufficient unplaced succes-ful candidates from the May examination to meet the needs of the departments for the ensuing six months. In accordance, therefore, with the provisions of the Civil Service Act, intended to meet such a contingency, no new vacancies in the Second Division were advertised for the November examination. A similar condition existed in the case of female clerks for the Third Division, who were not stenographers. This surplus of successful clerks having been placed before May, 1915, a full list of examinations was once more held during that month. There was thus only one Second Division examination for the year covered by this report, that being held in May, 1915. At this examination there were two hundred and twelve (212) candidates, one hundred and eighty-seven (187) men and twenty-five (25) women. Of these, upwards of seventy passed the minimum test, but as only thirty-five men were required, the first thirty-five male candidates, in order of merit, were gazetted as successful. Seven of the female candidates reached the same standard, and were thus eligible for employment in the Third Division.

The usual limited promotion examination from the Third to the Second Division was held in May, 1915. For this one female and thirty male clerks were nominated by the departments, and of these one female and sixteen male clerks were successful.

In May also the annual examination for Naval Cadetships was held, there being eight candidates, of whom six were successful.

During the year there was the usual number of special examinations for lower grade candidates nominated by the various departments under section 22 of the Civil Service Act, for positions as messengers, sorters, packers, etc., in the Inside Service. Altogether, seventy-nine were nominated and examined, sixty-one of whom, having obtained at least the minimum percentage, received Certificates of Qualification. Forty-eight of these were appointed to permanent positions. At the same time, eighty-four candidates had written on the regular annual examination for lower grade positions. Of these, sixty-three were successful, but only two found opportunities for permanent appointment.

During the year, thirty-one special competitions were held for various clerkships, chiefly of a technical and professional nature, such as geologists, chemists, engineers, draughtsmen, translators, etc. Forty-four positions were advertised, and for these there were seven hundred and twenty-eight candidates. As usual, of the total number of special positions to be filled in the various departments, some successful candidates were selected as the result of open competitions, and others as the result of individual nominations by the departments. There were fifty special positions, chiefly of a technical and professional nature, filled as the result of open competition. Of these, thirty-five were in subdivision B of the Second Division and fifteen in subdivision A of the Second Division. On the other hand, thirty-five persons were appointed to somewhat similar positions not through open competition but on nomination by the departments, under section 21 of the Civil Service Amendment Act. At the same time, in at least one-third of these latter cases, the selections were made in co-operation with the Commission, usually after the candidates had served several months of probation in a temporary capacity. This afforded opportunity for the chiefs of the departments and the Commissioners to learn the qualities of the candidates for the positions in question. In some cases, however, the candidates who were nominated had barely sufficient qualifications to justify the issue of certificates, while in a few other cases certificates had to be withheld. It is gratifying to the Commissioners to be able to record that in cases of appointments to the higher and more technical positions in the Inside Service, there is an increasing harmony and co-operation between the Commissioners and the majority of the departments, with a notable reduction of the earlier evils of political patronage, and an unquestionable improvement in the technical and professional branches of the Inside Service.

There was a slight diminution in the past year in the number of temporary clerks appointed under the Civil Service Act. Some forty clerks who had qualified for permanent appointment in the Third Division were employed in a temporary capacity pending their permanent appointment. Similarly, twenty-two clerks in the Second Division were at first assigned in a temporary capacity but afterwards permanently appointed. Of those who had not qualified for permanent appointment there were altogether three hundred and thirty-six persons appointed to temporary positions in the Third Division. Of these, thirty-three, on account of special qualifications, obtained something more than the minimum remuneration at the rate of five hundred dollars. The majority of the temporary clerks had either passed a special test examination in typewriting and stenography, or were selected from the lists of candidates who had taken the competitive Third Division examination, and who stood relatively high among those who were unsuccessful candidates. Others were selected from those who stood well on the Second Division examination, while still others were possessed of university matriculation, non-professional teachers' certificates, or other satisfactory evidences of an adequate education. As a result of this method of selection, quite a large proportion of those who hold temporary clerkships are candidates for permanent positions in the Third or Second Divisions, and to such positions the best qualified among them subsequently attain.

During the past year, Certificates of Qualification were issued for the promotion of one hundred and eighty-three members of the Inside Service, while certificates were withheld in seventeen cases. The promotions were distributed as follows:—

From 3 B to 3 A, 69; from 3 B to 2 B, 1; from 3 A to 2 B, 16; from 2 B to 2 A, 54; from 2 A to 1 B, 28; from 2 B to 1 B, 1; from 2 B to 1 A, 16.

Owing chiefly to the exigencies of the war, a large number of persons have been employed in a temporary capacity in the Inside Service without certificates of qualification from the Commission and without being subject to the usual restrictions provided for under the Civil Service Act. The conditions underlying these exceptional employments and their relations to the regular Inside Service being so imperfectly understood, it is necessary to indicate the distinction between such employment and the regular appointments to the Civil Service even in a temporary capacity. In the first place, most of the new work was directly connected with the operations of the Militia Department, although other departments also were affected by the operations incidental to the war. Although the clerical staffs were to a certain extent increased in the usual manner prescribed by the Civil Service Act, yet large additional numbers of temporary clerks were taken on and paid directly out of the war appropriations. The chief difficulty in the way of appointing such temporary clerks under the terms of the Civil Service Act was that they could not be employed in a temporary capacity longer than six months in any fiscal year, while the work on which they were engaged might continue indefinitely under conditions determined by the duration of the war. Under these conditions it was held that inasmuch as this assistance was not paid out of the regular departmental votes for contingencies, but directly from the war appropriations the conditions of appointment and terms of employment did not come under the limitations of the Civil Service Act. Certificates of qualification were thus dispensed with, the time limit for temporary employment, the rate of remuneration, and other restrictions of the Civil Service Act were avoided, and the parties employed were selected and paid on the usual conditions as applied to the unorganized Outside Service. As these facts were only imperfectly known and as it was difficult to distinguish between those employed under the Civil Service restrictions and those employed without them, it was frequently represented that the Civil Service Commission was acting in a very partial and partisan manner as between the various candidates for appointment. The Commissioners were subjected to many interviews, solicitations, and protests on the part of candidates who found that numerous persons who had not complied with the Civil Service requirements were receiving preferential treatment. Considerable correspondence and much explanation has gradually established the fact that these new and exceptional conditions are entirely incident to the war, but that as far as the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission is concerned, the selections and appointments are subject to the same restrictions as before.

Another feature requiring explanation, though not so frequently as in the former case, arose from the operation of the War Measures Act, 1914, of last session, which authorized the payment of temporary clerks to fill the vacancies created by the enlistment of the regular clerks of the departments. Under this Act it was provided that such temporary clerks employed to replace the others might be paid out of the funds appropriated for the conduct of the war instead of out of the customary vote for civil contingencies. An Order in Council was subsequently passed exempting such persons as were employed as temporary substitutes and paid out of the war appropriation, from requiring to be appointed under any of the restrictions or qualifications provided for in the Civil Service Act. The practical effect of this measure was to apply to various positions in the Inside Service the usual conditions of appointment which prevail in the Outside Service. Here again considerable misunderstanding arose until numerous explanations had diffused the information that the commissioners were in no way involved in these appointments.

When peace is restored and the troops return to Canada, the question of the relation of a number of the discharged soldiers to the various grades of employment in the Civil Service, whether in the Inside or Outside sections, will undoubtedly prove an important and pressing one. It were well that this important problem should be frankly faced in advance, and the policy of the Government in the matter determined with a view to safeguarding at once the requirements of the Service and the interests of those who, having faithfully served their country in the war, may later, according to their respective capacities, effectively serve it in peace.

The Commissioners are particularly pleased to recognize the good offices of the staff of the Commission. By their capacity, devotion and efficiency, their work has been very satisfactory.

ADAM SHORTT,
M. G. LAROCHELLE,
Commissioners.

OTTAWA, September, 1915.

APPENDIX

THE REGULATIONS OF THE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION WITH REFERENCE TO ENTRANCE TO THE SERVICE AND PROMOTION IN THE SERVICE.

(Approved by His Excellency the Governor General in Council, on the 19th April, 1909. Amendments approved on the 22nd February, 1911, the 21st March, 1913, and the 12th April, 1915.)

In accordance with section 10, clause 2 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, 1908, requiring that the duties of the Civil Service Commission "shall be performed in accordance with regulations made by the Commission, and approved by the Governor in Council," the following regulations have been prepared by the Commission:—

EXAMINATIONS FOR ENTRANCE TO THE INSIDE SERVICE.

1. In order to comply with section 13 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, which states that "except as herein otherwise provided, appointment to positions in the Inside Service under that of deputy head shall be by competitive examination, which shall be of such a nature as will determine the qualifications of candidates for the particular positions to which they are to be appointed, and shall be held by the Commission from time to time in accordance with the regulations made by it and approved by the Governor in Council," the Commission will provide for general competitive examinations for entrance to the following divisions and subdivisions of the Inside Service:—

(a) Clerks for Subdivision B of the Third Division.
(b) Clerks for Subdivision B of the Second Division.

2. In accordance with section 15 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, the number of competitors to be selected, for appointment to the Service, from those taking the examinations for the above divisions, shall be computed by the Commission on the basis of the reports from the several departments as to their probable requirements for the ensuing six months.

3. The general competitive examinations shall be held twice a year, in the months of May and November. Forms on which applications for these examinations shall be made will be provided by the Commission, and may be had on application to the Secretary of the Commission. Where not less than three candidates make application to take an examination at the same place, general competitive examinations shall be held at the following places: Sydney, Halifax, Yarmouth, Charlottetown, St. John, Fredericton, Moncton, Quebec, Sherbrooke, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Hamilton, Toronto, London, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Nelson, Vancouver and Victoria. Examinations may also be held at such other places as may be selected by the Commission for the convenience of candidates applying for examination.

(2) Where competitive examinations are required involving technical or scientific subjects and necessitating the use of scientific apparatus, it shall not be necessary to hold such examinations at each of the above places, but the Commission shall, as far as possible, arrange for at least one place in each province where such examinations may be taken.

4. Any examination may be taken in the English or French language, at the option of the candidate.

5. A general examination for messengers, porters, sorters and packers shall be held annually in the month of May, at the same places as the general examinations for the Third and Second Divisions, and shall include the following subjects of the ordinary public school standard: Writing, spelling and the first four rules of arithmetic. The minimum percentage of qualification shall be fifty per cent on each subject and sixty per cent on the whole examination.

6. Where messengers, porters, sorters and packers require certificates of qualification and fitness under section 22 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, the Commission may require any or all of these to pass an examination which shall be as nearly as may be of the same standard as that set for those who take the general examination for entering that grade of the Service.

7. The general competitive examination for clerkships of Subdivision B of the Third Division shall include the following subjects: Writing and copying manuscripts, spelling, composition, arithmetic, geography, history, typewriting. The maximum number of marks for each subject shall be one hundred, except in the subjects of writing and copying manuscripts, for each of which the maximum number shall be fifty marks. No candidate shall be selected for appointment to a position in the Third Division who secures less than fifty per cent of the marks assigned to the subjects of spelling, composition and arithmetic and sixty per cent of the marks assigned to the whole examination. The standard of examination shall require a good general knowledge of the above subjects.

8. Candidates may take, in addition to the foregoing subjects, either or both of the subjects of stenography and book-keeping. Where candidates obtain over sixty per cent of the marks assigned to either or both of these subjects, the marks above sixty per cent may be added to the total of the marks obtained on the compulsory subjects in determining the relative standing of the candidates in the general examination.

9. Persons employed in the Civil Service, in the Third Division, may take the general competitive examination for entrance to the Second Division under the following regulations:—

(1) Such persons must be between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five years at the time of examination.

(2) Their records in the reports to be furnished under the Civil Service Amendment Act must be good.

10. To insure the availability of a sufficient number of competent typewriters and stenographers, the Commission may appoint a special competitive examination for typewriters and stenographers, for Subdivision B of the Third Division, which shall include the following subjects:—Typewriting, stenography, writing and copying manuscripts, spelling and composition. Successful candidates must obtain at least fifty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject and sixty per cent of the marks assigned to the whole examination.

(2) Where a sufficient number of typewriters and stenographers are not available among those who have taken the full examination for Subdivision B of the Third Division, the requirements of the departments may be supplied by appointing, in order of merit, those who have taken the special examination for typewriters and stenographers.

(3) No one appointed as the result of such special examination shall be considered as eligible for promotion to Subdivision A of the Third Division who has not subsequently qualified in the additional subjects of arithmetic, history and geography, as required for the regular examination for entrance to the Third Division.

11. Where candidates for employment as temporary clerks require certificates of qualification and fitness under section 23 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, the Commission may require any or all of these to pass an examination which shall be as nearly as may be of the same standard as that set for those who take the general examination for entering that grade of the service.

12. Candidates for the general competitive examination for clerkships of Subdivision B of the Second Division shall take all the subjects in group A of the following list, and any five in group B:—

A.—Writing, Spelling, Composition, Literature, Arithmetic.

B. Algebra, Geometry, Physics, Chemistry, Geology (including mineralogy), Biology (animal and vegetable), French (for those taking the general examination in English), English (for those taking the general examination in French), Latin, German, History (modern), Political Science, Economics, Geography (general, physical and commercial), Philosophy (scholastic or general), Law (English or Civil).

(2) The maximum number of marks for each subject shall be one hundred, except in the subject of writing, for which the maximum number shall be fifty marks.

(3) No candidate shall be selected for appointment to a position in Subdivision B of the Second Division who secures less than forty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject in group A, and sixty per cent of the marks assigned to the whole group.

(4) No candidate shall be selected for appointment to a position in Subdivision B of the Second Division who secures less than thirty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject in group B, and forty per cent of the marks assigned to the five subjects selected.

(5) The standard of examination shall require a good general knowledge of the subjects selected from the above groups. In order that due regard may be had to the different educational systems in Canada, a curriculum shall be prepared by the Commission showing, with as much detail as possible, the ground to be covered under each of the subjects in the above groups A and B. A copy of this curriculum shall be supplied to any person on making application to the Secretary of the Commission.

13. Candidates may take, in addition to the foregoing subjects, any or all of the subjects of typewriting, stenography, and book-keeping. Where candidates obtain over sixty per cent of the marks assigned to any one or more of these subjects, the marks above sixty per cent may be added to the total of the marks obtained on the whole examination in determining the relative standing of the candidates.

14. Where the deputy head of a department applies to the Commission for a nomination to a clerkship in Subdivision B of the Third Division requiring special qualifications not covered by the general examination for that division, or for a nomination to a clerkship in Subdivision B of the Second Division requiring special qualifications in technical or scientific subjects, a special competitive examination may be provided by the Commission, instead of the general competitive examinations for either of these subdivisions. The subjects for such special examination shall be arranged between the Commission and the deputy head of such department.

15. Where the deputy head of a department applies to the Commission for a nomination to a position above that of Subdivision B of the Second Division, which requires to be filled by appointment from without the Service, the Commission shall, after consultation with the deputy head of the department in which the appointment is to be made, provide a special competitive examination or test, which may or may not involve written answers to questions, but which shall be of such a nature as to secure a person well qualified for the position to be so filled. In determining the qualifications of candidates for such positions, the examination or test shall have special reference to executive ability and tact, such special or professional training as may be required, and a successful experience in duties similar to those pertaining to the positions to be filled.

16. Where the appointment is one which is to be made under section 21 of the Civil Service Amendment Act inasmuch as the person to be appointed requires to obtain from the Commission a certificate that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability, the Commission, with the consent and co-operation of the head and deputy head of the department in which the appointment is to be made, may arrange a form of examination or test, by which to determine whether the person is qualified. On satisfying the Commission that he is duly qualified, such person will receive the certificate of the Commission.

17. When the selection is made by the head and deputy head of the department without reference to the Commission, the Commission may make such inquiries and appoint such an examination or test to determine the qualifications of the person so nominated as it may deem necessary for an intelligent and responsible discharge of its duties.

PROMOTIONS IN THE INSIDE SERVICE.

18. A candidate who is recommended by the head of a department for promotion, other than from the Third to the Second Division, in order to receive the prescribed certificate of qualification, must satisfy the Commission of his ability to perform the duties of the position to which he is to be promoted. For this purpose the Commission, if it considers an examination necessary, may, after consultation with the deputy head of the department in which the promotion is to take place, prescribe a promotion examination, having regard to the requirements of the subdivision to which the promotion is to be made, and the special duties of the position to be filled.

19. Where there are two or more persons in the employment of a department who are eligible for promotion to any vacant position, the Commission may, at the request of the head of the department, provide a competitive promotion examination limited to those who are declared eligible for promotion. Such an examination shall have regard to the requirements of the subdivision to which the promotion is to be made, and the special duties of the position to be filled. Upon the results of this examination, if satisfactory, the Commission shall issue the required certificate of qualification.

20. Candidates, who, under subsection 2 of section 26 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, 1908, are nominated by the head of a department for promotion from the Third to the Second Division must, in order to receive the prescribed certificate of qualification, satisfy the Commission that they are entitled to enter the Second Division. To this end, the Commission, after consultation with the head or deputy head of the department in which the promotion is proposed, shall prescribe a non-competitive promotion examination which, while having special reference to the requirements of the positions to be filled, shall nevertheless insure a qualification substantially equivalent to that required in the open competitive examination for entrance to the Second Division. Such non-competitive promotion examination shall include all of the subjects in group A under regulation 12, any three of the subjects in group B under regulation 12, and two papers on the work of the department in which the candidate for promotion is engaged. The minimum percentages required for passing on the subjects included in group A shall be not less than forty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject and sixty per cent of the marks assigned to the whole group. The minimum percentages required for passing on the subjects selected from group B shall be not less than thirty per cent of the marks assigned to each subject and forty per cent of the marks assigned to the three subjects, also that candidates must obtain at least fifty per cent on each of the papers on the work of the departments in which they are engaged. In the case of a candidate who does not obtain the minimum of forty per cent, assigned to the three subjects selected from group B, but who obtains an excess of marks above the minimum percentage required on each of the papers on the work of the department, such excess shall be added to the marks obtained by him on the subject selected from group B for the purpose of estimating his percentage on the whole group. Where a candidate, who has obtained the aggregate marks required on the promotion examination, fails in one subject only, not being one of the papers on the work of the department, such candidate may, on the recommendation of the deputy head of the department, complete the examination by writing on that subject alone at the ensuing examination. The minimum standard required on such subject shall be fifty per cent if the subject is in group A, and thirty per cent if the subject is in group B. Any candidate who fails only in the total number of marks assigned to Group A may, on the recommendation of the deputy head of the department, complete the examination by writing on that group alone at the ensuing examination.

21. All general competitive examinations for entrance to the Service shall be advertised in the Canada Gazette at least four weeks before the examinations are to take place. Special competitive examinations shall be advertised in the Canada Gazette at least two weeks before the examinations are to take place. Such advertisements shall state the number of positions to be competed for, the conditions to be complied with by the competitors, the subjects to be covered by any special examinations, and the places at which the examinations may be held.

22. Within one month after the publication of the results of a Civil Service examination any candidate who considers that his answer papers have not been correctly valued, may make application to the Commission to have his papers re-read. Such application must be accompanied by a fee of $3 in the case of the Third Division or lower examinations, and $5 in the case of the Second Division or higher examinations. In cases where the appeal is sustained the fee will be returned.

2. The answer papers of all candidates at any Civil Service examination, after being valued by the examiners, shall be retained by the Commission for a period of six months from the date of publishing the results, and at the end of that period they shall be destroyed.

23. Every successful candidate, before receiving a permanent appointment to the Inside Service, must furnish the Commission with a certificate of good health, which shall be filled out on standard forms to be furnished by the Commission.

(2) There shall be appointed by the Governor General in Council in each place where an examination is held one or more medical examiners, from whom such certificates shall be obtained.

(3) The fees for the health certificate shall be:—For messengers, porters, sorters, packers, and for temporary clerks, two dollars ($2); for clerks of the Third Division, three dollars ($3); for clerks of the First and Second Divisions, five dollars ($5).

24. Every successful candidate, before receiving an appointment to the Inside Service, must furnish the Commission with references to at least three reputable persons who may be able to give adequate information as to the candidate's character and habits.

25. The following shall be the schedule of fees to be paid by the candidates at the several examinations held under the direction of the Commission:—

Examination for lower grade positions, a fee of.. .. .. .

(3) The fees for the regular Third and Second Division examinations, for lower grade examinations, and for any special examinations, shall be payable by the candidates when making application for the examination. Should any candidate, after making application and paying the required fee, be unable to write on the examination, one half the fee may be returned.

26. Copies of the reports of the "conduct and efficiency of all officers, clerks and employees below the First Division" which, in accordance with section 40 of the Civil Service Amendment Act, are required to be made in each department, shall be furnished to the Commission by the deputy heads of the various departments every three months.

(2) To insure uniformity these reports shall be made out on forms prepared by the Commission which may be procured by the departments upon requisition to the Government Stationery Office.

27. As soon as practicable, after the coming into force of these regulations, the deputy heads of the several departments shall furnish to the Commission, for the purpose of its Establishment Books, returns of the officers of their departments, with such particulars as to their past service and present employment as are provided for on the form prepared by the Commission.

28. The Secretary of the Treasury Board shall notify the Commission of all changes which take place in the organization of the offices in the several departments in the Inside Service, whether these changes result from the creation of new offices, the division or combination of existing offices, or the abolition of offices; also of all changes in the personnel of the officers holding respective offices in the several departments in the Inside Service, whether these changes result from original appointment, promotion, transfer, death, resignation or dismissal.

29. The Commission shall select examiners duly qualified to prepare the necessary examination papers and to value the answers of the candidates, in connection with the general and special examinations provided for in the Civil Service Acts and in these regulations.

(2) Each of the examination papers for the First and Second Divisions of the Inside Service shall be prepared and the answers valued by two examiners.

(3) In the case of promotion examinations, and of special or technical examinations for the First and Second Divisions, as far as possible one of the two examiners shall be selected from within the department in which the appointment is to be made, and the other from without.

30. Examiners for the Inside Service shall be paid in accordance with the following scale of fees:—

To each examiner for setting a paper for the general competitive examinations for the First and Second Divisions.. ..	$15 00
Where the examination is one of a special or technical character for the First or Second Division of the Inside Service, and where not more than five candidates are taking the same examination, each examiner shall be allowed $20.00 for setting the paper and valuing the answers.
To each examiner for setting a paper for the Third Division examinations..	10 00
To each examiner for setting a paper for the lower grade examinations..	5 00
To each presiding examiner at the various centres where the examinations are held:—
Per day..	10 00
Per half day..	5 00

Where the number of candidates at any centre exceeds twenty-five, an assistant examiner may be appointed for such additional number up to twenty-five, and other additional assistants may be appointed in like proportion, where the number of candidates exceeds fifty.

To each assistant to the presiding examiner:—

Per day	$ 5 00
Per half day	3 00

For valuing the answers in the case of the general competitive examinations, the compensation shall be as follows:—

For each paper in the examinations for the First or Second Divisions	0 50
For each paper in the examinations for the Third Division	0 20
For each paper in the examinations for the lower grades	0 10

OUTSIDE SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Preliminary and Qualifying Examinations prescribed by the Civil Service Act for the Outside Division of the Civil Service shall be held semi-annually at the same times and places as the examinations for the Inside Division of the Civil Service, and shall be conducted in like manner and governed in all respects by the rules and regulations prescribed for the examinations for the Inside Service, with the following exceptions, viz.:—

(1) The Preliminary Examination shall include the following subjects of the ordinary public school standard: Writing, spelling, and the first four rules of arithmetic. The maximum number of marks in each subject shall be one hundred. The minimum percentage for qualification shall be forty per cent in each subject and fifty per cent on the whole examination.

(2) The Qualifying Examination shall include the following subjects: Writing and copying manuscripts, spelling (including dictation), arithmetic, geography, history, and composition. The maximum number of marks for each subject shall be one hundred, excepting in the subjects of writing and copying manuscripts, for each of which the maximum number shall be fifty marks. The minimum percentage for qualification shall be forty per cent in each subject and fifty per cent on the whole examination. The standard of examination shall require a good general knowledge of the above subjects.

(3) Candidates in the Qualifying Examination who fail in one subject only, but who make the required aggregate of fifty per cent, or three hundred marks, may come up for the subject in which they failed at any one or more subsequent examinations, and, on their passing the same, the marks made in the other subjects at the previous examination will be allowed them, but candidates failing in more than one subject, or in the aggregate, if they come up for examination again, must take all the subjects required.

(4) Every successful candidate at the Preliminary or Qualifying Examination will receive a certificate from the Commission.

No tourist can forget the view which greets him, as his steamer cleaves the bright-green flood of the St. Lawrence, and brings him face to face with the majestic and frowning promontory of Quebec, which from the multitude of glittering quartz crystals in its composition was early called Cape Diamond. Three hundred feet in height, it is impressive in itself, imposing from man's decoration, and haunted with heroic history. Upon its summit and slopes are many reminders of stirring events; its base is girdled with a prosperous city, and within easy range of its great guns a cosmopolitan fleet of ships and steamers lies at anchor, bringing, or bearing hence, innumerable products of earth's bounty and man's skill, of which gold is the mere expression. These vessels, in the buoyant water rippling at their prows, seem eager to be off in company with the stream, which constantly invites them oceanward and bears so royally to the sea the tribute of half a continent.

WRITING.

Time: 30 minutes.

Value—100.

Copy the following extract: -

Silver is largely a modern product of Canada, and its greatest production did not commence until 1906. Yet, as early as 1846, silver-carrying veins were found on the shores of Lake Superior. Of that region the most famous mine was known as the Silver Islet, and the vein ran through a small islet in Lake Superior, some 90 feet square, lying near Thunder Cape.

Canada possesses the most extensive fisheries in the world, and the greatest abundance in commercial food fishes. The fishing coast-line of the Atlantic Provinces measures 5,000 miles and of the Pacific Province 7,000 miles, while, in addition to these salt-water regions, there are 220,000 square miles of fresh water abundantly stocked with various kinds of food fishes. The most extensive lobster fishery known is carried on along the whole of the eastern shores of Canada, whilst excellent oyster-beds exist in many parts of the Gulf of St Lawrence.

Time: 2½ hours.

Value.

100 1. Write an essay of about 250 words on one of the following subjects:—

(a) Our Summer Camp.

(b) A Discussion of the Question whether Reading Books is more Profitable than Reading Periodicals.

(c) My Idea of Patriotism.

(d) How our Locality has been, and is, Affected by the War.

2. Give in good form, within the limits of about 300 words, the substance of the following address:—

Coming down to the present day, we find the automobile travelling up and down the roads of the province nearly the whole season through, and we find the same necessity returning for trunk roads as we had when the stage coach was rolling up and down the highways of this country and formed the only means of transporting mails and merchandise as well as passengers from place to place. Conditions have changed and now our cities are larger and the rural sections are being depopulated. The increasing size of cities like Toronto and Hamilton and London and many other places has a tendency to draw young men and women to the city, and we find a necessity for trunk roads leading from one large city to another.

Automobiles have become of such universal benefit to the community that we must dub them necessary evils, and we have to provide roads sufficiently hard and well built to stand the wear and tear of these vehicles. I believe the time is coming when the farmers of the country will be using automobiles a great deal more than they do at the present time. I doubt very much if the time will ever come when they will be universally used the same as the horse, but they will be made use of by people who can afford to have them either for luxury or for business.

To show you the wear and tear to our roads that is caused by the automobile traffic, I would point out that twelve years ago we were expending a couple of hundred dollars a mile on our County Roads System, and at that time we had a road system which answered the purpose just as well as it does to-day for the ordinary farmer who hauls his produce into the City of St. Catharines or Hamilton by horse and wagon. Since the advent of the automobile we find the expenditure on our County Roads System increasing by leaps and bounds, and last year and the year before we had to spend the sum of $18,000 in maintenance. If we were making expenditures at the same rate as we did twelve years ago, we would have expended more than $6,000, so that you see $12,000, or two-thirds of the expenditure, was caused by the automobile traffic.

When we commence to establish a trunk road system in the province, we find we are up against a very serious problem, because roads cannot be built without money. The farmer objects to being taxed, and I think rightly so, for the purpose of building roads that will stand a heavy automobile traffic. I believe a scheme can be adopted which will do away with the difficulty. If the wear and tear on the trunk roads was charged up to the cause, no person would have any serious objection. It may seem an impossibility to raise funds in the way I am going to suggest, but I think if the Government would impose a tax upon automobiles of $1.00 per horse-power and I do not think it exorbitant, and I would have to pay it myself, because I own and operate an automobile—if this tax were imposed, it would accumulate a vast sum of money. The average automobile is in the neighbourhood of 30 horse-power. That would mean that the average automobile user would be paying a tax of about $30 per year for the purpose of operating his machine on the public highways of this province. Last year there were issued in the province of Ontario about 18,000 licenses. In 1914 there will be probably 20,000 automobiles in the province. That in itself would provide a fund of about $600,000 annually, and those of you who are accustomed to issuing debentures can easily see that if the Government would apply the fund accumulated by automobile licenses alone on trunk roads, it would be able to make wonderful improvements in the interest of trunk lines in the province without asking a cent from the townships, although I think it would be fair for the townships to pay towards the trunk roads the same amount as it would cost to maintain an ordinary macadam road.

I am informed that $15,000,000 could be expended in making trunk roads in this province. I have often thought it is a great pity we have not as good roads in the province of Ontario as they have in New York State. I am informed by the City Engineer of St Catharines that a first-class asphalt macadam road can be built for about $15,000 per mile, and that would permit of 1,000 miles being built with the fund I have referred to, and we can safely say that the maintenance of such a road would be taken care of by the increase in the automobile tax in the province. I do not think you can say that I am hard on the automobile, because I believe, from the standpoint of the automobile owner, that he would save money by being able to travel on a first-class road and could well afford to pay the tax. The saving of wear and tear on his machine would be a great deal more than the tax he would have to pay, and he would not object to paying the tax if he was going to have a first-class road to travel on.

No one can travle far in England without obsirving with delite its universel virdure. This cannot be too highly prased. When other lands are white with dust, the feelds of England are fresh and moist, and all its welth of foleage is undimed. In summer the entier iland seems to be covered with a butiful green carpit, of which the heges, trees, and flowers are the figgered paterns. The very walls are tapestred with soft tirf, the rustick houses vale themselves with vines, wild roses twine above the porches, and honeysukles clime adventurusly to the eeves. Truly, the fogs of London are abundently attoned for by the rurel buty of this iland gem.

Allmost all English landskape seems to have been finished with a brush and pensil, and even the hill-sides look well-groomed. One must consoul himself for the frekwent showers, since it is the copeous rain that rendirs it thus fresh and green and makes of it the garden of the world.

Another charm of English seenery is the compleeted, well-kept apperence of everything one sees. The fields are usuely framed with heges, the rodes are neat and tastful as a garden walk, and the winding lanes are brite with flowers. There are no traces here of a hasty groth, and it is evedent that all this rustik lovliness is the result of sentures of civilisation. Whether an enerjetic Canadian would care to live in such sircumscribed suroundings is questioneble, but cirtenly to a traveller it is both novle and deliteful.

Switzerland is a country with few natural resources except its scenery, its water-power, and its people. The transcendent beauty of its landscape results from a topography which renders agriculture difficult. The soil yields its harvest only when the ingenuity, the skill and the industry of man have subdued the severity of a natural environment as perverse as it is beautiful. Agriculture in a level, fertile, virgin land consists largely in appropriating the spontaneous gifts of friendly Nature. In such a region man's work is relatively a small item in the total result, and the worker must take second place to Nature.

Farming on the Alpine slopes of Switzerland is another matter. Here, man, the conqueror of unfriendly forces, is the chief asset and is esteemed accordingly. In a country where coal and iron are cheap and plentiful, where cotton, lumber, and other raw materials are easily obtained, where manufacturing interests are shielded from competition, and the stream of commerce flows unimpeded through a continent, the efficiency of the individual plays a relatively minor part in the industrial life. In Switzerland, where there is neither coal, iron, nor petroleum; where forests have been depleted, where raw materials must be imported from other lands, where neighbouring powers are jealous competitors, and tariff barriers dam the natural flow of commerce within narrow boundaries, the very existence of industry, and even of the national life itself, demand in every worker the greatest skill and efficiency.

   (a) The inauguration of the parcel-post service in Canada: Need and advantages of such a service.
   (b) The Death of Lord Strathcona: Lessons to be drawn from the life and works of this great Canadian.
   (c) The answer of the volunteers to the call to arms, in your own district or town, and their leaving for the front.
   (d) The miseries attendant on war, and how they can be alleviated by those who remain at home. Having a scheme of your own to help the needy, explain it and call on your friends to join in the good work.

To the Minister of————————.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward you a report I wrote on returning from the journey you ordered me to undertake from Tampico to the Pacific. Tampico is a modern city; it was built only after the War of Independence; its site was still covered by dense woods in 1820. It stands on both banks of the River Panuco, about 12 miles from its mouth. The river, which is more than 1,200 feet broad, is deep enough for vessels drawing 24 feet of water to sail at any time right up to the town, where the custom-house buildings and wharves are to be found: these important public works have cost the Federal Government five million dollars. Tampico is the port of entry, especially for heavy goods intended for the industrial establishments of the central plateau: machinery, coal, sugar in bulk, etc. The sale of barbed wire is becoming very important; this wire is coming more and more into use for fencing pastures. Corrugated iron for roofing is being adopted extensively, even in the country, where it supersedes the roofs made of palmleaves, which are an easy prey to fires. As in all the towns of the coast, the Indians are provided with large knives, of the length and shape of swords. These replace with them all sorts of tools, as well as defensive weapons. This is the article which sells best. Nails, rifles, window-panes, common glassware, Chinaware, paving brick, cement, paper, perfumes, cotton cloth are contributed by European countries, with Germany in the lead. We may see in this gain made by foreign goods a telling example of the results which would reward all intelligent and industrious efforts bent on opening new commercial outlets. Canadian firms, so far, have failed in attaining this object.

The export of dye-wood is falling off considerably; all the wood within reach of the streams and railways has been used up, and it is now necessary to ascend far away, to the sources of the rivers, to find any. Wood fit for cabinet-work consists principally of cedar, but fine wood is hardly to be found anywhere, unless it be very far inland, on the mountains. Agriculture is developing on a large scale. Every farm has an apiary, and discarded petroleum cases are still utilized instead of hives. Tobacco is not fit for export trade; it is smoked in the country. I travelled through the district which is the main centre where sarsaparilla is produced. Indians, who harvest it, come in canoes down the Panuco river to sell it to exporters. Cattle are plentiful, and a good trade in that line is carried on with Cuba and countries in Central America. The soil along the river-banks is very fertile, but only a very small area is under cultivation. There are lands which, if they were cleared up, and irrigated by means of canals tapping the river at intervals, could yield sugar-cane, cotton and tobacco. Up to the present time, the natives have limited their efforts to cutting clearings, in which Indian corn and lentils are sown. Cattle-breeding is another incipient industry. The people lack energy, and the country is in want of peace and security.

HALIFAX, March 31, 1913.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit this my annual report as medical superintendent | of the hospital. There are at present 21 patients in the institution, 11 males and 10 females. There were | no deaths and no admissions during the year. Seventeen of our patients are of French, two of English, and one | of Russian origin. Their ages vary from nine to eighty-one years. They have generally been free from other illness. | I have, as in former years, visited, every four months, the sections of the province which furnish, from time to | time, our patients for the hospital, and I am pleased to say, that the families suspected and so visited are | all free from the disease. The treatment followed here since May, 1911, is giving fairly satisfactory results. I had | at first fifteen patients to treat and gave between thirty-six and sixty-eight injections to each. With this, as | with any other treatment, a few patients attributed illness to its use, and refused it, after a few injections. With | mostly all patients there is an elevation of temperature. The patients are supplied with musical instruments and some games, | to help them pass away the time and divert their thoughts from themselves. They are taking advantage of these amusements | and seem to enjoy them. The Sisters make every effort to contribute to their physical and moral comfort and respond | to many calls by day and by night.

ONE HUNDRED WORDS PER MINUTE.

At other expositions on the Continent where Canada participated, we have had a few Germans employed on construction work, but on our building here this | number has increased to 25 per cent of the number of men employed. German carpenters are good mechanics and good workers, and very much | interested in Canada. The German exhibit is close to our pavilion, so that we expect to get a good proportion of German literature disposed of | amongst these people; in fact, our pavilion is well placed to reach the natives of countries in which Canada cannot carry on an emigration campaign. | and feeling that this was our great object in making this exhibit, and considering the wish expressed by the authorities of the exposition, as mentioned above, | and also that it was in the interest of Canada to do so, especially when she will have no other opportunity to exhibit under similar | circumstances on the Continent of Europe for many years, I thought it well to do something out of the ordinary, and I may say that | both the building itself and the interior decoration and arrangements are by far the best we have had on this continent for many years.| The construction work was commenced early in November by a large London firm, who hold themselves entirely responsible for the work in consideration of | a commission of fifteen per cent on the cost of the building, this including salary and expenses of the architect and clerk of works, | who have been on the grounds for five months. All the interior decorations are made in Canadian grasses and straws and include a series of pictures. | Our exhibit consists of the products of agriculture, mines, forestry, fisheries, and railroad transportation. All our exhibits are in splendid condition and form a splendid collection.|

It is not gude for human natur to have the road of life maid two eazy. Beter to be under the nesesity of workeing hard and fareing meenly, than to have evereything done redy to our hand. Indeede to start in life with small meens seems a nesasary stimulus to work. An eminant Juge when askd what contributid most to sucess, replyed: "Some succeed by grate talent, some by high conections, some by miracal, but the madjority by comensing without a shilling." So it is a comon saying that men who are most sucesful in buziness, are those who began life in poverty: whereas, those who begin with fortuns generaley lose them. Nesesity is the first aid to industry, and those who use it with prudense and perserverance will rairly fail. Everybody likes flowers. As we roam about the fields and the woods, it is pleasant to see them here and there. We should hardly enjoy our walk if we did not see them, for they are like familiar friends that we love to meet. We see them come every year after the winter is gone, and we like to bid them welcome. The earliest ones that we see in the spring are the most precious to us. They are the first children of spring, and we find them only here and there. But we know that there will be many more flowers as the warm summer comes, and we rejoice to greet the first of the beautiful things that are to delight our eyes in the field and in the garden. We are so fond of flowers that we like to have them where we can look at them in winter; we are not willing to wait till spring comes. Those who can afford it sometimes have green-houses, in order that they may keep a great variety of plants, and have flowers all the time.

The Dominion of Canada, extending westward from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean, and northward from the United States boundary to the Arctic Circle, embraces a total area computed at 3,729,665 square miles. This area is divided into nine provinces and the Yukon and Northwest Territories. By the Boundary Extension Acts passed by the Dominion Parliament in 1912, the provinces of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec were enlarged by the addition of areas that were previously part of the Northwest Territories. The boundaries of Manitoba were thus extended northwards to the 60th parallel of north latitude between the eastern boundary of Saskatchewan and the western shore of Hudson Bay; and from the point where the northern boundaries of Ontario and Manitoba formerly coincided, the boundary of Manitoba was extended due north to a point defined, and thence northeasterly to the point where the 89th meridian of west longitude intersects the southern shore of Hudson Bay.

(a) The Panama Canal (history, construction, uses).

(b) The Part Played by the Navy of Great Britain in the Present War.

(c) An Account of a Public Meeting (concert, speech, play) you have Attended this winter.

2. Give in condensed form in your own words the substance of the following passage:—

In opening this, the Nineteenth Session of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada, it gives me much pleasure to see so many of the old familiar faces, and to welcome the representatives of the various organizations of the working people, representing all branches of industry in the Dominion of Canada.

The past year has been one of unusual industrial activity, the enormous growth of our Canadian industries, coupled with a bountiful harvest, has caused a greater demand for labour, and with it greater increase in the cost of living; yet wages have not kept pace proportionately with the enhanced cost of living or the general prosperity of the country. Many trade movements have taken place this year for better conditions and for a share in the general prosperity to which our people were justly entitled, but denied them by the unreasonable attitude of employers' associations and their members. Owing to the active hostility on the part of the employers and manufacturers' associations seeking to hamper and disrupt our movement, an unusual amount of work has been placed upon your Executive Committee in meeting this opposition, and a greater demand has been made upon their time than in any previous year in the history of the Congress. A detailed account of the work performed will be found in the report of your Executive.

The action on the part of these unions of employers in attempting to destroy the unions of the working people is to be regretted. Trade unions have come to stay, and no amount of persecution, prosecution or retrograde legislation can stop their onward progress. They are the outgrowth of the requirement and economic condition of the times; while not perfect, yet they are as nearly perfect as any other form of human society. Their mission is to protect the weak and defenceless and uplift the toilers in all lands; to take them from the quagmire of poverty and wretchedness and place them on the highlands of prosperity. That trade unions are constantly improving in their methods and organization is very apparent, and I believe that on the whole the employer and employee are coming closer together. This can be brought about more rapidly by a proper understanding of the relationship of one to another, and a due regard for the rights of each. This is being hastened by means of conciliation and arbitration. I would favor trade agreements between the representatives on each side. I think it is possible to find a common ground where employer and employee can meet with honour and satisfaction to both. This has been demonstrated by agreements made between unions of employers and workmen in many branches of industry. To be successful, there must be organization with discipline in order to force a due observance of these agreements, and all contracts religiously lived up to. Educational work among both employers and employees is necessary; it is the crying need of the hour and is very evident to those who have had experience in bringing about adjustments in industrial disputes.

Water-powers and the produckes of the soil and forest may be wasted and parshally distroyed, but, by carefull and long continude tretement, a re-creation is made posible; by the extention of our forests and the judishious care of our soils and waters we may be ashured of timber, water and abundent crops for all time.

The ores or minnerels, on the other hand, are the produckes resulting from the action of diferent forces in nature extending over long periods of time which cannot be mesured in terms of life. Hence when such deposits are exhosted, they cannot be replenished. The coal when once burned, goes into the air and cannot be reclamed. It is true that mettals are utilised without being, like coal, entirly and irevocably distroyed in use. Gold and silver serve mainly to increase the stock of the precous mettals upon which the monetary sistems of the world are based. They are to a certain extent dissipated and lost beyond recovery by the waring away of coins and by use in the arts.

The use of iron, copper, lead and tin may also be divided into classes, one of which leaves more or less scrap mettal or waste from which metal can be recovered, while the other distroys or diseppates beyond recoviry the mettal imployed. The exhostion of minnerel resorses, therefor, when once accomplished, is a permenent exhostion, and the consirvation of these resorses is a national duty.

For one hundred and fifty years France laboured to build up a strong colony in Canada, and the result at the end of that time was a scattered population of less than seventy-five thousand people. Historians are prone to put the blame for this comparative lack of success in colonization on the methods adopted by France; but during the time she held possession of New France, the mother country did everything possible, according to her light, both directly and indirectly, to build up a strong colony in Canada. She granted monopolies to trading companies on condition that they establish settlements. She sent out regiments of soldiers, and, when they were no longer needed in the field, she placed them on the land. But it cannot be said that France was eminently successful in establishing a strong, self-reliant colony in Canada.

Geographic influences tended to retard emigration from the homeland. The climatic conditions were harsher than those of sunny France. The arable soil was inferior in quality, and much labour had to be expended in clearing away the forest before food crops could be produced. Often the land, after being cleared, was found unfit for cultivation, or so rocky as to be almost worthless for agricultural purposes.

The environment of the settlers in New France was in sharp contrast with that of the settlers in New England, who, on a more fertile soil and under a less severe climate, occupied the narrow coastal plain between the Appalachian Mountains and the sea.

   (a) The Passing of Lord Roberts: Lessons to be drawn from the career of this great soldier of the Empire.
   (b) Canada's Part in the War.
   (c) The Canadian Red Cross Fund.

2. The following speech was delivered by the First Lord of the Admiralty at the Colonial Conference, 1902. State briefly in your own words the substance of this speech, so that your synopsis shall not exceed two pages of the answer-book. Candidates are requested to pay special attention to spelling, writing, punctuation, grammar, and style.

Mr. Chamberlain and Gentlemen, the Admiralty has circulated a memorandum which, I think, you all have before you. We endeavoured in the memorandum to confine ourselves to setting forward the nature of the problem which the Admiralty has to face on behalf of the Empire, and to indicate the extent of the burden which is thrown on the Mother Country. I need not say that I shall be happy to answer any questions that any of the Colonial Premiers here present might wish to ask in elucidation of the general principle, and the facts stated in the memorandum. I would propose, if Mr. Chamberlain and the Premiers agreed, that when the Admiralty come to a detailed discussion with any Colony or group of Colonies, that those discussions should be held separately. The Admiralty is entirely at the disposal of Ministers if they will be kind enough to visit us and discuss the problem with us so far as it concerns their own Colony. To-day I will merely endeavour to lay emphasis on two points which are contained within this memorandum. The first on which I would lay the greatest possible stress is, the reason why we have eliminated from this memorandum any allusion to the word "defence." There was a time in this country, not so very long ago either, when naval strategists regarded the naval problem mainly from the point of view of defence. That, I submit, is altogether heretical. The real problem which this Empire has to face in the case of a naval war is simply and absolutely to find out where the ships of the enemy are, to concentrate the greatest possible force where these ships are, and to destroy these ships. That is the only possible method of protecting this Empire from the efforts which navies may make to damage her commerce or her territory. It follows from this that there can be no localization of naval forces in the strict sense of the word. There can be no local allocation of ships to protect the mouth of the Thames, to protect Liverpool, to protect Sydney, to protect Halifax. If we make any such attempt of the kind, we should only be inviting disaster. It follows also that whatever local distribution of forces may be advisable and feasible in time of peace, in time of naval war there must be only one authority with full power and responsibility; any diminution of the power of that central authority, any risk of hesitation or delay in making a conjunction of the squadrons where they can deal the most effective blow, may have disastrous consequences.

The second point on which I wish to lay special stress is this. At present there is only one agreement between the Imperial Government and any group of Colonial Governments in respect of naval affairs, although we have received generous—and independently proffered—aid from the Cape and from Natal—I allude to the Australiasian agreement. Now, gentlemen, I attach great importance to that agreement, because the statesmen who negotiated it and signed it have led the way in what I may call the Imperial consideration of this question of naval policy. But, like every document that commences a policy, it has faults, and to my mind there is no fault greater in it than this, that the relations of the Australasian Governments to the Imperial are simply that of the man who pays to the man who supplies. The Australasian Governments pay us a certain contribution; for this contribution we supply them with a certain article. Now, this is good as far as it goes, but it does not, to my mind, go far enough. It does not give our New Zealand and Australian fellow-countrymen the sense of personal interest, of personal possession, in the British Navy, which I most of all desiderate for the future, and I want, not only the Colonial Governments to understand that on the naval protection of the Empire, exercised through a wise naval strategy, depends our future existence as a United Empire, but I want them to regard the Navy as their own, at least, as much as ours, and with that object I wish to see in the Navy more Colonial officers and a contribution of Colonial seamen. I want, in fact, if I may use such a term, to increase the maritime spirit of the Empire. After all, we are not in this country all sailors, yet we are all imbued with the maritime spirit. Here you have the great Colonies covering vast geographical tracts of country; is there not a danger that in the far interior, unless we take precautions, the maritime spirit may be lost? I want to bring Australasia, Canada, and South Africa to understand, in the sense that the average Englishman understands it, that the sea is the one material source of our greatness and our power; the main bond of union; the real source of our strength—if I may use such mixed metaphor—that the sea is to the Empire as the breath of life; but it cannot be done, I opine, so long as we are only receivers of money. I want to see from all parts of the Empire a personal contribution to the Navy, so that it may not only be an abstract Admiralty to govern the Navy, but an Admiralty that has won the confidence of the Colonies because the Colonies understand its policy, and because in each Colony there are officers and men belonging to the Navy—an integral portion of the Navy. Those are the two points, gentlemen, on which I wish to lay special stress, and I can only conclude, as I began, by saying I am here at your service to answer any questions which you may wish to address to me.

In a speech in which the whole question of the war was dealt with in a masterly fashion, and which | it was my pleasure to read and to reread, this sentence occurred: "For the balance of our lives the best | measure of our worth will be how we behaved in this war." That is an admirable sentiment, and it is | admirably expressed. I could conceive no greater duty than for my young friend, for whom I have the profoundest respect, | to take that as a text for his speeches wherever he goes, and as a text for repetition. It is | just to the extent we live up to that doctrine that we shall discharge our duties as citizens of the | greatest Empire the world has ever seen. The people of Canada to-day know they are living in an Empire of | brave men, and they want to be ruled by a brave government. They want to be ruled by a government | who sees its one duty and allows nothing to distract it from that duty. We, with our Allies, have pledged | our honour, our blood, and our money to put the exiled people of Belgium back upon their native soil. | We have given pledges and hostages that we shall restore the sacredness of international treaties, that we shall put in | honourable position the pledged word of peoples. Is this task not big enough for us? It is a task worthy | of our Empire.

ONE HUNDRED WORDS PER MINUTE.

It is an additional source of pride to us that England did not seek this war. It is a matter of history—one of the | noblest pages of the history of England—that she never drew the sword until every means had been exhausted to secure and to keep an | honourable peace. For a time it was hoped that Sir Edward Grey, who on more than one occasion has saved Europe from such a calamity, | would again avert the awful scourge of war. Sir, it will go down on a still nobler page of history that England could have averted | this if she had been willing to forego the position which she has maintained for many centuries as the head of European civilization; | if she had been willing to desert her allies, to sacrifice her obligations, to allow the German Emperor to trample upon heroic Belgium, | to infringe upon the rights of France, and to put down his booted heel upon Continental Europe. At that price England would have secured peace; | but her answer to the German Emperor was: Your proposals are infamous. And, rather than accept them, England has entered into this war; and there | is not to-day, all over the universe, a British subject, there is not outside the British Empire a single man, whose admiration for England is | not greater by reason of this firm and noble attitude. So to-day England is at war. Her fleets are maintaining the freedom of the ocean. | Her armies have already crossed the channel towards plains made famous more than once by British valour, this time to maintain the independence of Belgium. | The armed forces of Europe, as we all know, have been increasing beyond measure, and it has been feared that war was bound to come. |

TYPEWRITING.

Copy the following:—

I once knew a distinguished alienist who said that all men and women were on their way either to the penitentiary or to the insane asylum. When he was remonstrated with, he said that he could not qualify that statement other than to say that some people died before they got there. Now, it rather seems to me that, from wherever I start or for wherever I start, I am gently led up to both the penitentiary and the insane asylum. That is the predicament in which I find myself now. However, I have no fault to find for being led up to the consideration of these two institutions. I have every sympathy with every one who is anxious about the condition of our penitentiaries, and more particularly about the manner of treatment of our unfortunate insane convicts. I have every sympathy with him, because I share his anxiety. It is a subject that is present to my mind during a very large part of the time, and which has given me matter for thought, and I may say for action, during a period of months.

Terror of good things is one of the peculiar results of distorted economic reasoning. A consul has "warned" the American Republic that an underwear mill in Hong Kong sells one-half its entire product in New York city; that steel rails are being produced in a Chinese modern steel mill with labour that commands only thirty cents a day for ten and a half hours; that Shantung province, with a population of more than 30,000,000, is building modern railways; that in the City of Tsingchau Chinese capital is building a modern steel mill with $10,000,000 invested, and employing labour at twenty cents a day. Instead of rejoicing at the resultant prospect of getting underwear, steel rails and other products with much less effort than formerly, the reporting Consul regards these things as portentous and even terrible.

The capacity of China to shower blessings on the world is regarded with terror because the reporting Consul has forgotten that the object of industry and commerce is to get underclothing, steel rails, and other products. He thinks the object is to throw obstacles in the way of getting these things and to make it more difficult to supply ordinary wants. The heathen Chinese may be peculiar, but he will not send one single suit or half-suit of underclothing from his gigantic factory or so much as a single knife-blade from his vast rolling mills to the United States unless the people of that republic make something more satisfactory to give him in payment.

He will do no Zeppelin act to ruin American industry. He will distribute only as American industry continues able to reciprocate. The more freely he is able to distribute and the more he gives in return for what he receives, the more he will lessen the difficulties which make it so hard to produce a living by work in the Republic. The Consul's theory, that it is a good thing to make good things hard to get, has received a rude jolt by the present belligerent obstruction of trade.

There is a tendency in some quarters to attribute the increased cost of living, in part at least, to the cold storage warehouse. I do not understand that it is the business of this Branch to defend the cold storage industry from criticism of any kind, either reasonable or unreasonable, but it may not be out of place to offer a few remarks on the subject. That the price of food has risen during the period in which the cold storage industry has been developed is undoubtedly true, but it is also true that prices have risen as much for articles that never go into cold storage as they have for those perishable food products for which cold storage is now a necessity if an adequate supply is to be available during the period of non-production. That the average yearly prices for foods of seasonal production are not any higher than they would be if no cold storage were available is, I believe, a statement which is quite capable of proof. Without the markets which cold storage warehouse affords for the surplus of foods over that which is required for immediate consumption during the period in which these foods are produced, their production would be strictly limited to the current demands and only for such quantities as could be marketed at a profit. Two very good illustrations as to the effect of cold storage on prices are furnished in the record of the produce market during the past six months. Take eggs, for instance. The quantity of eggs placed in cold storage in the early part of the season of 1912 turned out to be in excess of the quantity required for winter consumption, partly on account of the mild weather, which favoured the production of eggs during the winter months. As soon as it was realized that the market was oversupplied, the prices of eggs went so low as to cause actual loss to many holders, and the consumer got the benefit, simply because too large a quantity was placed in storage, and stored eggs must be got rid of before the new crop is available. On the other hand, the quantity of butter in cold storage in Canada at the close of the manufacturing season of 1912 was insufficient to meet the consumptive demands during the winter months. The price naturally rose until it was possible to bring in butter from New Zealand and pay the duty thereon and still sell it at a profit. Some five million pounds of butter have been imported during the past five months to meet the shortage in the Canadian supply. It hardly requires any argument to prove that if there had been an additional ten million pounds or more of butter in cold storage in Canada last fall, the price would never have been higher than the export basis, which would have been from 22 to 24 cents per pound, whereas the wholesale price during the past winter was from 30 to 31 cents per pound in Eastern Canada.

These two instances are sufficient answer to the absurd and exaggerated statements which are frequently made as to the supposedly enormous quantities of perishable food products held in cold storage. Such statements are made often by men who do not take the trouble to calculate the quantity of food which is required to feed a given number of people for a stated period, but the absurdity lies in the fact that the greater the quantity there is in storage the better chance there is for the consumer to secure his supplies at a reasonable cost, because, after all is said, the law of supply and demand must rule.

With very rare exceptions, it would be the height of folly on the part of any owner of cold storage produce to carry it from one season into the period of the next season's production. Instances have been given of meat having been in store two or three years, and, no doubt, there have been cases of that kind, but there is always some explanation. No sane man would carry meat three years, at a cost of about 12 cents a pound for storage alone, for purposes of speculation. Suggestions have been made, on the grounds of public health, to fix a time-limit for certain goods to be held in cold storage. The writer has never been able to see any justification for such a proposal, for the reason that the condition of goods coming out of cold storage bears very little relation to the storage period. It is a well-known fact that eggs which are gathered during the cool weather of April or May and stored under proper conditions, will turn out better during the following winter than eggs which are stored in July or August, when the weather is warm and deterioration sets in much more rapidly. The same may be said of butter. Well-made early summer butter, if stored under proper temperatures, will frequently be fresher and sweeter in the month of February following than butter made in October or November. The condition of the goods when placed in store has more to do with their condition when removed than anything else. It very often happens that the owner of meats, dressed poultry and other goods only places them in cold storage when he thinks they are beginning to spoil. It is cases of this kind that have created a prejudice against cold storage goods with some people. For the protection of the industry, cold storage managers should be very careful as to the condition of the goods offered for storage, and to reject anything which shows signs of deterioration.

The writer believes that supervision and inspection of all cold storage warehouses with a view of securing proper sanitation of premises is all the government regulation of the cold storage industry that is needed in this country. The condition of goods in storage, or as removed therefrom, as far as public health is concerned, can be dealt with under existing municipal regulations for food inspection.

Comme on servait le café, les convives rejoignirent leur place et le bruit recommença: tous parlaient à la fois. L'adjudant avait entrepris Gustave lui expliquant qu'il devait dire quelque chose aussi. Celui-ci s'excusait: vraiment il ne le pouvait pas, la peine l'oppressait.

— Bah! un mot seulement.

Le bruit d'un verre frappé par le couteau de l'adjudant ramena le silence: la parole était imposée à Gustave.

Celui-ci se leva lentement et remercia ses amis du témoignage d'affection qu'ils lui donnaient. Il ne pouvait dire tout ce qu'il éprouvait au moment de les quitter, pour longtemps peut-être et promettait de n'oublier ni les uns ni les autres. Son émotion avait gagné les assistants, et les plus robustes essuyaient de grosses larmes chaudes qui coulaient sur leurs joues sanguines.

On entonna un chant; il fallait cette diversion à la tristesse, qui n'est que passagère au cœur de l'homme.

— Vrai, vous partez, monsieur, disait la jeune fille à Gustave. Je vous souhaite bon courage, et bonne chance; vous reviendrez . . . voyez-vous, une fois qu'on est dehors, on ne pense plus qu'au retour.

Et s'adressant à l'adjudant:

— Eh bien maintenant, monsieur, laissez-moi partir, mon cocher doit s'impatienter et sûrement vous aussi.

— Soit, mais il faut auparavant payer votre rançon, sinon on vous garde comme prisonnière.

2. Translate into French:—

One morning in June, I had just reached the Ministry of the Interior, and was entering my office, when a messenger came up to me and said solemnly:

"The Prime Minister would like to speak to you at once, sir."

When a public official is sent for by his chief, the first thought that flashes across his brain is that of disgrace, and he instinctively makes a rapid and silent examination of his conscience. Nevertheless, I admit that when I received this message, I took it philosophically. The Prime Minister at that time was Mr. W., of whom I retain most pleasant recollections. To intellectual attractions he added a certain cordiality. He looked upon events, and upon life itself, from the point of view of a man more or less disillusionized; and this made him at the same time satirical, indulgent and obliging. He honoured me with a kindly friendship, notwithstanding the fact that he used to reproach me, in his jesting way, with becoming a reactionary, from my contact with the monarchs of Europe. I once took his breath away by telling that I had dined with the Empress Eugenie.

"A republican official at the Empress' table!" he cried. "You're the only man who would dare to do such a thing . . . . And you are the only one," he added slyly, "in whom we would tolerate it?".

For all that, when I entered his room on this particular morning, I was struck by his thoughtful air; and my surprise increased still further when I saw him, after shaking hands with me, close the door and give a glance to make sure that we were quite alone.

Ueber das Baden in alter und neuer Zeit.—Das Baden ist nicht, wie viele annehmen, eine Einrichtung der Neuzeit. Im Gegenteil, das Baden und die Bade-Einrichtungen vor zwei tausend Jahren standen in viel höherer Blüte als heutzutage. Aber nicht nur zu diesen Zwecken, sondern auch der körperlichen Reinigung wegen, wurden Gesetze gegeben und streng beobachtet, wie zum Beispiel bei den Egyptern, Juden, Phöniziern, Griechen und Römern. Aber meistens war Gelegenheit zum Baden nur in öffentlichen Anstalten zu finden, nur die Reichen hatten Privatbäder. 1. Intelligence test:—

"To be, or not to be: that is the question:
Whether it is nobler in the mind to suffer
The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,
Or to take arms against a sea of troubles,
And by opposing end them? To die: to sleep;
No more; and by a sleep to say we end
The heart-ache and the thousand natural shocks
That flesh is heir to, 'tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To die, to sleep;
To sleep: perchance to dream: ay, there's the rub;
For in that sleep of death what dreams may come
When we have shuffled off this mortal coil
Must give us pause: there's the respect
That makes calamity of so long life;"

By nine o'clock on the thirty-first of July, about two miles from the Cornish coste, the fleats had there first meeting. There were one hundred and thirty-six sale of the Spaniards, of which ninty were large ships; and sixty-seven of the English. It was a solem moment. The long expected Armada prezented a pompus, allmost a theatrecel apperence. The ships seemed aranged for a pagent in honor of a victery already won.

Disposed in the form of a cressent, the horns of which were seven miles appart, those gilded, towerred, floting cassels, with their gawdy standereds and their marshal music, moved slowly along the chanel, with an air of indollent pomp. Their capten-general stood in his privet shot-proof fortres, on the deck of his great galleon, the St. Martin, surounded by generals of infentry and kernels of cavelry who knew as little as he did himself of navel matters.

The English vessles, on the other hand, with a few exseptions, light, swift and esily handeled, could sale round and round these unweeldy galleons, hulks, and galleys rowed by fetered slave gangs. The supereor seemanship of free Englishmen comandded by such expeerenced captens as Drake, Frobisher and Hawkins, from infency at home on blue water was manefest in the very first enkounter. They obtained the weather-gage at once and canonadded the enemie at intervals with conciderable afect, esely escaping at will out of range of the slugish Armada, which was inkapabel of retaleating in like maner, although provided with an armement which could sink all its adverseries at close quarters.

Life in the country districts of South America has little of the character of rural life in England or other European countries where civilized man has been in close contact with the land for centuries. The economic contrast between the great landowners of Argentina and Brazil, and the humble tillers of the soil, could not be more marked in the most despotic country. Upon these great estates the semi-serfs, for the system renders them practically such, live more or less on sufferance, dependent upon the autocratic requirements of their masters. There is no class corresponding to an independent peasantry or yeomanry. The housing of the workers is usually of the poorest possible description, and there are practically no laws protecting labour either in town or country. Yet the character of the working class generally is such as causes them to extract what of light-heartedness is possible out of their humble state.

South American society is seen at its greatest ease in the towns. As regards the upper class individual or youth, it cannot be said that he is of a vogorous or adventurous nature, such as new lands require. To live in the capital is to acquire the hall-mark of civilization and citizenship for the educated individual of Latin-American race; a sentiment largely borrowed from Paris. The fascination of the wilds does not appeal to him, and though there are thousands of miles of unexplored rivers and dense forests, mountain peaks among the highest in the world still unascended, and archæological remains among the most interesting in the world, yet investigation into their little-known secrets has been almost entirely the work of foreigners.

(1) "The Happiest Day in My Life."

(4) The General Effect of Naval Power During the War.

Time: 1½ hours. Dictation, ½ hour. Reproduction, 1 hour.

Note.—This part is not to be seen by the candidates. The Examiner in charge will advise them to give attention to spelling, punctuation and writing.

The following is to be read twice aloud: once as a whole to give the meaning, and once by phrases to enable the candidates to write.

(a) The Smith-Robinson Co., Ltd.,
275 King St. W.,
Toronto,
Ontario.

(b) "Courage!" he said and pointed towards the land,
"This mounting wave will roll us shoreward soon."

(c) His judgment was based on the noblest principles.

(d) The fondness for rural life among the higher classes of Englishmen has had a great and salutary effect upon the national character. Instead of the softness and effeminacy which characterize the men of rank in most countries, they exhibit a union of elegance and strength, a robustness of frame and freshness of complexion, which I am inclined to attribute to their living so much in the open air, and pursuing so eagerly the invigorating recreations of the country. The hardy exercises produce also a healthful tone of mind and spirits, and a manliness and simplicity of manners, which even the follies and dissipation of the town cannot easily pervert, and can never entirely destroy.

The following is to be twice read aloud to the candidates, who will then write the gist of it in their own words. After the first reading, the Presiding Examiner will repeat and spell the proper names occurring in it.

THE RETURN OF ULYSSES.

Ulysses had been absent from his Kingdom of Ithaca for twenty years, and found on his return the nobles fighting among themselves for the possession of the kingdom and for the hand of Queen Penelope. He returned to his palace disguised as a beggar. Penelope had protracted her decision in favour of either of her suitors so long that there seemed to be no further pretence for delay. The continued absence of her husband seemed to prove that his return was no longer to be expected. Meanwhile her son Telemachus had grown up, and was able to manage his own affairs. She therefore consented to submit the question of her choice to a trial of skill among the suitors. The test selected was shooting with a bow. Twelve rings were arranged in a line, and he whose arrow was sent through the whole twelve was to have the queen for his prize. A bow that one of his brother heroes had given Ulysses in former times was brought from the armoury, and with its quiver full of arrows was laid in the hall.

All things being prepared for the trial, the first thing to be done was to bend the bow in order to attach the string. Telemachus endeavoured to do it, but found all his efforts fruitless; and modestly confessing that he had attempted a task beyond his strength, he yielded the bow to another. He tried it with no better success, and, amidst the laughter and jeers of his companions, gave it up. Another tried it and another; they rubbed the bow with tallow, but all to no purpose; it would not bend. Then spoke Ulysses, humbly suggesting that he should be permitted to try; for, said he, "beggar as I am, I was once a soldier, and there is still some strength in these old limbs of mine." The suitors hooted with derision, and commanded to turn him out of the hall for his insolence. But Telemachus spoke up for him, and, merely to gratify the old man, bade him try. Ulysses took the bow, and handled it with the hand of a master. With ease he adjusted the cord to its notch, then fitting an arrow to the bow he drew the string and sped the arrow unerring through the rings.

Without allowing them time to express their astonishment, he said, "Now for another mark," and aimed direct at the most insolent one of the suitors. The arrow pierced through his throat and he fell dead. Telemachus, Eumæus, and another faithful follower, well armed, now sprang to the side of Ulysses. The suitors, in amazement, looked around for arms, but found none, neither was there any way of escape, for Eumæus had secured the door. Ulysses left them not long in uncertainty; he announced himself as the long-lost chief, whose substance they had squandered, whose wife and son they had persecuted for ten long years; and told them he meant to have ample vengeance. All were slain, and Ulysses was left master of his palace and possessor of his kingdom and his wife.

1. Traduisez:—

(a) Un jour, un paysan portait un panier de poires au château d'un grand seigneur. Il arrive au château et sur l'escalier il rencontre deux singes, habillés comme des enfants.

Le paysan ôte respectueusement son chapeau. Les singes approchent du panier—ce sont des animaux gourmands—et dévorent une grande parties des poires.

Ensuite le paysan monte chez le maître du château.

"Monseigneur, voici les poires que vous avez commandées."

"Mais pourquoi n'as tu pas rempli ton panier? Il est à moitié vide."

"Il était plein, monseigneur, répond le brave homme, mais sur l'escalier j'ai rencontré vos deux fils. Ces messieurs ont trouvé mes poires à leur goût et je n'ai osé protester."

(b) Il fut décidé que le chasseur passerait la nuit dans la maisonnette, et l'entretien continua encore quelque temps à la lueur paisible du foyer, tandis que le vent continuait à gémir au travers des arbres de la forêt. Tout à coup l'étranger s'interrompit et leva des yeux profondément surpris vers la vieille paroi de la cuisine. L'horloge sonnait onze heures, et l'oiseau du printemps chantait ses deux notes joyeuses, en faisant chaque fois une comique petite révérence tout à fait polie.

LATIN.

Time: 2½ hours.

Value—100.

1. Translate into English TWO of the following selections:—

(a) CÆSAR'S REASONS FOR INVADING BRITAIN.

Exigua parte aestatis reliqua, Cæsar, etsi in his locis, quod omnis Gallia ad septentriones vergit, maturae sunt hiemes, tamen in Britanniam proficisci contendit, quod omnibus fere Gallicis bellis, hostibus nostris inde subministrata auxilia intellegebat, et, si tempus anni ad bellum gerendum deficeret, tamen magno sibi usui fore arbitrabatur, si modo insulam adisset et genus hominum perspexisset, loca, portus, aditus cognovisset; quae omnia fere Gallis erant incognita. Neque enim temere praeter mercatores illo adit quisquam, neque iis ipsis quicquam praeter oram maritimam atque eas regiones, quae sunt contra Gallias, notum est.

(b) The Wisdom of Old Age.

Videtisne, ut apud Homerum saepissime Nestor de virtutibus suis praedicet? Tertiam iam enim aetatem hominum videbat, nec erat ei verendum, ne vera praedicans de se nimis videretur aut insolens aut loquax. Etenim, ut ait Homerus, "ex eius lingua melle dulcior fluebat oratio," quam ad suavitatem nullis egebat corporis viribus. Et tamen dux ille Graeciae nusquam optat, ut Aiacis similes habeat, sed ut Nestoris; quod si sibi acciderit, non dubitat, quin brevi sit Troia peritura. Sed redeo ad me. Quartum annum ago et octogesimum. . . . sed tamen, ut vos videtis, non plane me enervavit non adflixit senectus: non curia vires meas desiderat, non rostra, non amici, non clientes, non hospites.

(c) (There came to Æneas in a vision dead Hector, bidding him flee—for lo! Troy's hour was come.)

Ultro flens ipse videbar
Compellare virum et maestas expromere voces:
"O lux Dardaniae, spes o fidissima Teucrum,
Quae tantae tenuere morae? Quibus Hector ab oris
Exspectate venis? Ut te post multa tuorum
Funera, post varios hominumque urbisque labores
Defessi adspicimus! Quae causa indigna serenos
Foedavit vultus? Aut cur haec vulnera cerno?"
Ille nihil, nec me quaerentem vana moratur,
Sed graviter gemitus imo de pectore ducens,
"Heu fuge, nate dea, teque his," ait, "eripe flammis.
Hostis habet muros; ruit alta a culmine Troia."

I need not dwell very long upon the incidents which led up to this war. Last evening I had the opportunity of reading with the deepest possible interest the White Paper which was laid upon the table of the House to-day, and which gives a very full and detailed history of the untiring efforts of Sir Edward Grey—who has been rightly characterized by his colleague the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, as the peacemaker of Europe—to prevent war. The splendid efforts made by Sir Edward Grey to preserve the peace of Europe command our warmest admiration; when that proved impossible he most earnestly endeavoured to find some way of escape, short of dishonour, by which Great Britain might remain neutral in that awful contest. The armed forces of Europe, as we all know, during the past twenty or twenty-five years have been increasing beyond measure and the closest students of the world's politics have believed for many years past that war was bound to come. It did come, and with startling suddenness; and it is my duty to say that after reading the documents to which I have alluded, after giving them the most careful and attentive consideration which was permitted to me in the short time that has elapsed since their arrival, I am convinced that no government ever with more whole-hearted earnestness sought to keep the peace of the world and the peace of this Empire than did His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom. It has been the policy of the British Government for many years past to seek reduction of armaments and thus to lessen the danger which lurks in the enormous armed forces with which the nations of Europe have confronted each other. At and ever since the Hague Conference in 1907, British statesmen have pleaded with the nations of the world to reduce their armaments. At The Hague Conference, and on many occasions since, Great Britain offered to give up what would seem to be very material advantages to her in time of war if by such concessions she could induce Germany and other countries to abate the awful increase in armaments of war which has been proceeding. Mr. Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, Mr. Churchill, Mr. McKenna, Mr. Ackland—I have their utterances under my hand and could read them to the House if there were occasion. Time after time, year after year, on occasion after occasion the British Government has shown itself most truly and earnestly desirous of bringing about such conditions in Europe as would make for permanent peace if that could be accomplished. Those who will read the papers that have been laid upon the table of the House to-day will find that in the very last moments of peace, before Great Britain finally embarked in the conflict she made this earnest proposal to the German Government: That if this most appalling crisis could be passed, she would use every influence and every effort that she could command to bring about such an understanding between Germany and her ally on the one hand, and Russia and France on the other hand as would relieve Germany and Austria from any apprehension of attack from that quarter; and the minister declared himself to be inspired with a very full confidence that if this crisis could be passed, great results would be brought about.

I will not dwell for more than a moment on the earlier aspects of the war—the war which broke out between Austria and Servia; but I cannot escape the conviction, after having read the documents to which I have alluded—and I do not think any member of this House or any man in this country can escape the conviction—that there was a deliberate determination in the first place to force war upon Servia, regardless of any humiliation to which she might consent or of any consequences which might result from that war. I say that such is my deliberate conviction. The most imperious demand ever made upon any free nation in the world was made by the Austro-Hungarian monarchy on Servia on the 24th day of July. It was not to be called an ultimatum, as they afterwards explained; it was to be called a "demarche," with a time limit, and the time limit to that demand, served at Belgrade on the 24th day of July, was to be delivered not later than half past six o'clock on the evening of the next day, the 25th of July. I have a summary of the demand and of Servia's answer under my hand, and I say that a perusal of that demand and of the answer which Servia gave to it impresses us with the truth of what Sir Edward Grey stated when he said: "It seemed to me that the Servian reply already involved the greatest humiliation to Servia that I had ever seen a country undergo."

Le lac très kalme, a peine riddé par quelque courrents pres qu'insencibles, s'étalle dans un pénombre transparent. La lune, en son plain, monte lentment dans le cielle et depace les somçts. Son reflais s'alonge en un côlone de lumières, couleur vieille or, qui tramble, pappilone, s'élargie peu-a-peu sur les aux sombres. Une barc de pèche atardée, surgie toute a coup, come une fantome, koupe et bryse le reflais. Mille serpants de feue pale se tordent au tour, ondulent au silage. La barc s'éloigne; une pousière d'étinselle coure derrière elle. Le bruit mouïllé des rammes s'afaiblie et se fonds dans le grande silance. Il n'y a plus cet tranquil nape de lumières qui sômeile sur les reflais et le cirke des montagnes dont les fôrmes vapaureuses révetent le mantau du gaz bleu des nuites seraines. Un volcan est un puits d'une profondeur insondable, et dont l'ouverture a quelquefois une demi-lieue de diamètre. Cette large bouche à feu vomit avec un bruit effroyable des torrents de fumée et des flammes, des fleuves de bitume, de soufre et de metal fondu; de là s'elèvent des nuées de cendres et de pierres. Telle est la force de projection du Vésuve et de l'Etna, qu'on les a vus lancer à plusieurs myriamètres de distance des rochers énormes, tels que, pour en mouvoir un seul, les forces réunies de quelque vingt à vingt-cinq mille hommes seraient insuffisantes.

L'embrasement est si terrible, et la quantité de matières ardentes, fondues, calcinées, vitrifiées, est si abondante, qu'on a vu ensevelir sous la lave ou la cendre des villes, des forêts, des buttes, des monticules même.

L'action du feu est si grande, la force de l'explosion si violente, que la terre en est ébranlée, la mer agitée, les édifices renversés à des distances considérables.

La science a observé les effrayants phénomènes des éruptions volcaniques, mais elle ne les a pu expliquer encore d'une manière satisfaisante; c'est là un de ces innombrables mystères de la nature, qui nous font comprendre que l'homme ne connaît encore que bien peu de chose de la surface de la terre, qu'il étudie pourtant depuis soixante siècles.

Traduire en français les deux extraits suivants:—

(a) The second policy to which I would refer is the assuming by ourselves of the defence of our own ports and coasts, in constant and free co-operation with the imperial forces of the mother country. Let us see what are the objections to, and what may be urged in support of, that second policy. It has its advocates and its opponents. In the first place, we begin with no plant, no expert skill, no trained cadets, no trained sailors. In those respects, Canada is a blank sheet. Whatever may be necessary has to be collected and assembled together and developed with such expedition and in such abundance as circumstances will allow. Under that system our first vessels would be British built, British equipped, British manned, British officered from stoker to captain. There is no other way in which we could proceed. We are absolutely bare of the skill, the experience, the training and the power necessary to put one single war vessel on a proper footing; but—and it is but the beginning of a circle—the first Canadian-owned vessel, built and equipped in Britain, and sent out to defend our coasts, would become the nucleus and the training ground of Canadian stokers, Canadian sailors, and Canadian officers, and by and by, perhaps, of a Canadian admiral on the Canadian coast. How much time would be taken in completing that circle none of us can say, but if we begin the circumscription of it and follow it fairly and faithfully, the time must come when we get a complete circle and have an imperial adjunct to the British navy for the defence of Canada and the defence of the Empire.

(b) The question of the formation and geological age of the crystalline schists (schistes) has given rise to much controversy. Some geologists have maintained that these racks are to be regarded as portions of the early crust of the globe which consolidated from a molten condition. Others have regarded them as original chemical deposits on the floor of a primeval ocean. These writers, justly repudiating the exaggerated views of those who have sought by metamorphic processes to derive the most utterly different rocks from each other, have insisted that the crystalline schists have been deposited " for the most part as chemically-formed sediments or precipitates, and that the subsequent changes have been simply molecular, or at most confined in certain cases to reactions between the mingled elements of the sediments, with the elimination of water and carbonic acid." To support this view it is necessary to suppose that the rocks in question were formed during a period of the earth's history when the ocean had a considerably different relative proportion of mineral substances dissolved in its waters; they are consequently assigned to a very early geological period.

Bonaparte est premier Consul pour dix ans. Il promulgue les lois, nomme et révoque les conseillers d'Etat, les ministres, les ambassadeurs et autres agents extérieurs, les officiers des armées de terre et de mer, les membres des administrations départementales. Son pouvoir sur la magistrature est limité par le règle de l'inamovibilité. Il nomme, sans qu'il puisse les révoquer, tour les juges criminels et civils, à l'exception des membres du tribunal de Cassation, désignés par le Sénat, et des juges de paix. En 1791, dans le premier élan des passions et des candeurs révolutionnaires, le principe électif avait tout envahi; on avait voulu que le peuple élût les législateurs, les administrateurs et conseils locaux à tous les degrés, les juges de toute catégorie, les officiers de la garde nationale, jusqu'aux évêques et aux curés; en l'an VIII, on lui laissait le droit d'élire ses juges de paix.

Pour tout acte de gouvernement autre que la nomination des fonctionnaires, officiers et juges, Bonaparte consulte ses deux collègues et puis décide. Le gouvernement, c'est-à-dire Bonaparte, pourvoit à la sûreté intérieure de l'Etat. Il dirige la diplomatie, conduit les négociations, signe les traités, avec cette restriction que les déclarations de guerre, les traités de paix, d'alliance et de commerce, doivent être proposés, discutés et adoptés en forme de lois. "Il distribue les forces de terre et de mer et en régle l'emploi."

La constitution faisait ainsi Bonaparte très fort, trés puissant, beaucoup plus puisqu'un roi d'Angleterre, plus puissant qu'un président des Etats-Unis; il y aurait toutefois grande erreur à dire qu'elle créât la dictature. Le dictateur réunit en soi tous les pouvoirs; il décrète et exécute; il est la loi vivante et agissante. Bonaparte obtenait toute la fonction exécutive; il proposait aussi la loi, mais ne la faisait point, puisqu'il appartenait au Tribunat (Tribunate) de la discuter et au Corps législatif, selon l'expression conservée, de la décréter.

Le mécanisme législatif est disposé en principe de la façon suivante, sauf à en préciser le détail par des lois ultérieures. Sur l'initiative des Consuls, le Conseil d'Etat, grand comité de techniciens, élabore les projets; le Tribunat les discute et émet un vœu en faveur de l'adoption ou du rejet; après quoi, trois orateurs du Tribunat s'en vont concurremment ou d'accord avec les délégués du Conseil d'Etat discuter le projet devant le Corps législatif.
